Lelio oder die Rückkehr ins Leben.

Lyrisches Monodrama.

Deutsche Übersetzung von Peter Cornelius, revidiert von Felix Weingartner.

Lelio ou le Retour à la vie.

Monodrame lyrique.

Paroles de Hector Berlioz.

Lelio, or The Return to Life.

Lyric Monodrama.

Seinem Sohne Louis Berlioz gewidmet.

H. Berlioz, Op. 14[b]

Personnages réels.

Lelio, compositeur de musique.
Musiciens, Choristes, Amis et Élèves de Lelio.

Personnages fictifs.

Horatio, ami de Lelio.
Un Capitaine de Brigands.
Brigands, Spectres.

Note.

Cet ouvrage doit être entendu immédiatement après la Symphonie Fantastique, dont il est la fin et le complément. L'orchestre, le chœur et les chanteurs invisibles doivent être placés sur le théâtre, derrière la toile. L'acteur parle et agit seul sur l'avant-scène. A la fin du dernier monologue il sort, et le rideau, se levant, laisse à découvert tous les exécutants pour le Final.

En conséquence, un plancher devra être établi au-dessus de l'endroit ordinairement occupé dans les théâtres par l'orchestre.

Le rôle de Lelio exige un Acteur habile, non chanteur. Il faut en outre un Ténor pour la Ballade, un autre Ténor pour le Chant de bonheur, et un Baryton énergique pour le capitaine de brigands.

Wirkliche Personen.

Lelio, Komponist.
Musiker, Choristen, Freunde und Schüler von Lelio.

Fingierte Personen.

Horatio, Freund des Lelio.
Ein Räuberhauptmann.
Räuber, Geister.

Anmerkung.

Dieses Werk muß unmittelbar nach der phantastischen Symphonie aufgeführt werden, deren Anhang und Schluß es bildet. Das Orchester, der Chor und die unsichtbaren Sänger müssen sich auf der Bühne hinter dem Vorhang befinden, während der Schauspieler allein im Proscenium handelt und spricht. Bei seinem Abgang am Schluß des letzten Monologs erhebt sich der Vorhang und macht sämtliche Mitwirkende des Finale sichtbar.

Demnach muß der vom Theaterorchester gewöhnlich eingenommene Raum mit einem Bretterboden bedeckt werden.

Zur Rolle des Lelio bedarf es eines ausgezeichneten Darstellers, außerdem eines Tenors für die Ballade, eines anderen Tenors für die Hymne des Glückes und eines kräftigen Baritons für den Räuberhauptmann.

Real Persons.

Lelio, Composer.
Musicians, Choristers, Friends and Pupils of Lelio.

Fictitious Persons.

Horatio, Friend to Lelio.
A Brigand-chief.
Brigands, Ghosts.

Remark.

This work should be performed immediately after the Fantastic Symphony, which indeed it supplements and concludes. The invisible orchestra, chorus and singers are to be placed on the stage, behind the curtain. The actor alone speaks and acts upon the stage in front of the scenes. Upon his exit, at the conclusion of the last monologue, the curtain rises and reveals all those taking part in the finale.

Consequently, the space usually occupied by the orchestra must be covered over with a flooring.

The part of Lelio requires a first-rate dramatic actor, not a singer. One tenor is needed for the ballad, another tenor to sing the song of bliss, and a powerful baritone for the part of the brigand-chief.

II.

Chœur d'Ombres.

Geister-Chor. Chorus of the Shades.

L'orchestre doit commencer au moment où Lelio prononce ces mots: «Oui, je l'entends!»
Das Orchester beginnt bei den Worten Lelio's: „Ja, ich fühle es!"
The orchestra begins at Lelio's words: "Yes, I feel it!"
